WIFE SEIZED AS POISON SLAYER

Jailed—Mrs. Victoria LeFebvre, 53, of Ashburnham, today was behind Fitchburg jail bars on charge of murdering her third husband by poison. Arraigned, she sobbed "not guilty." Questioned 12 hours, the woman said poison was procured by her to kill a mongrel dog.

TUCKERMAN HITS SALE OF PARDONS

Bayard Tuckerman, social registerite member of the governor's council, told the Boston Evening American today that in his opinion sums ranging from $2000 to $10,000 have been paid a state office holder for state prison pardons.

He is willing to testify to that effect, Tuckerman said, and he named the officer against whom his testimony would be directed.

"I am willing to testify," he said, "that in my opinion, in a number of cases where pardons were granted, money was paid to ———— ————, which he divided with others.

"That was only a little chicken feed."

At the same time, alarming disclosures which might have blocked a pardon for Raymond Patriarca, honeymooning Providence gunman, were prepared by District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing as a widespread probe into the pardon and parole system loomed in the Legislature.

The Norfolk County prosecutor, one of two district attorneys not notified that a pardon was planned for Patriarca, declared he still was of the opinion that the pardon should not have been granted.

"I said at the time," Dewing stated, "that my office, and that of District Attorney Owen Hoban of Worcester, should have been notified of Governor Hurley's intentions to free Patriarca.

"I haven't changed my opinion and am ready to give the facts which the executive council should have been apprised of before their action several months ago."

Prompt approval for an investigation as sweeping as in the Oliver E. Garrett case was assured in the Legislature following a recommendation by the Legislative rules committee.

Brookline police and the district attorneys of the two counties are expected to present facts concerning "ugly rumors" which have swept State House corridors for weeks in the Patriarca case.

Indications were that the commission, to be composed of one Senator, three Representatives and three appointees of the Governor, will be empowered to summon papers, books and other data. It was suggested that Patriarca and John Tartar, sweetheart murderer, would be called to testify.

Raymond Patriarca

Tartar, another parolee whose case now is seething, is sought as a fugitive from justice since revocation of his pardon by Governor Saltonstall.

The Patriarca case took a new turn today with the revelation that he now is honeymooning in Florida with the former Helen Mandella, a Boston nurse, and sister of Paul Mandella, a secretary in Governor Saltonstall's office.

The former convict was pardoned by former-Governor Hurley after he had served but 84 days of a three

'Happy to Be Home Again'

HUB CARDINAL IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 30—Feeling better than when he started the long journey from Nassau to Rome, William Cardinal O'Connell, dean of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States, arrived in New York today aboard the Italian liner Vulcania.

"I am very happy to be home again," the cardinal said in a prepared statement, "and I am deeply grateful to Almighty God for having brought me home safely and in excellent health."

Possibly anticipating questions as to the political situation in Rome, the Cardinal wrote in his prepared statement:

"I was not concerned with the political situation—that was not my mission." He did not elaborate on that in the very brief interview which he also granted.

HAPPY TO BE HOME

His final words were: "And now, thank God, I am home again. I never felt more deeply the love of our own dear country."

Recalling that it was as a result of his protest in 1922 that the number of days allotted to cardinals to reach the Vatican for the election of a Pope was increased, Cardinal O'Connell remarked:

"I would have missed it again." He arrived in Rome just in time to participate in the balloting.

He expressed gratification at being "finally enabled to be present for the privilege of taking part in a Papal election." Twice previously the cardinal had journeyed to Rome to help elect a supreme Pontiff, only to arrive too late.

BRINGS POPE'S BLESSING

The cardinal chatted at length about his experiences in Rome and expressed pleasure at renewing old acquaintances. He said he and Cardinal Belmonte were the only two surviving cardinals created by Pius X.

"On Tuesday before the coronation," he said, "it was my great

15-YEAR U. S. JOB TO EX-SEN. BROWN

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated former Senator Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire to fill the long-vacant post of comptroller general of the United States. Brown's term will be 15 years at $10,000 a year.

Brown, who was New Hampshire's governor from 1923 to 1925, was defeated last November after a single term in the Senate.

In the comptroller generalship Brown succeeds to the post vacated in 1936 by John R. McCarl. Richard N. Elliott has been acting comptroller general.

Brown, a native of Ossipee, N. H., is a graduate of Dartmouth university and of Boston University law schol. He was federal district attorney at Concord, 1914-22, in the years first preceding his term as governor. He will be 66 next month.

Brown was known in the Senate as a consistent supporter of the President.

Brown started his political career in Somersworth, N. H., after having retired as a major league baseball player. First a combination pitcher and catcher with a minor league club in Providence, R. I., Brown later caught for the Boston National League team.

His favorite pastime now is watching major league baseball. While in the Senate he attended opening games with Vice-President Garner.

His defeat of the veteran Republican, George H. Moses, made him New Hampshire's first Democratic senator since senators were chosen by legislatures.

Roosevelt on Alabama Tour Of 2 Schools

CHEHAW, Ala., March 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins, arrived here today for a three-hour tour of east Alabama education centers by motor car.

A bright sun greeted the presidential party, after downpours throughout the night.

The presidential special crossed the Alabama line shortly after leaving West Point, Ga., at Opelika, Ala.; Senator Lister Hill of Alabama boarded the train to join Representative Steagall of this district, and the presidential escort.

Tuskegee, home of the world's largest school of higher learning for Negroes; Auburn, seat of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and Opelika, near the Alabama-Georgia line, were bedecked to receive the President.

Large crowds were on hand.

Tuskegee displayed banners with Roosevelt's picture, with the words: "Our President."

Dr. F. D. Patterson, president of Tuskegee, met the President here, as did Governor Frank M. Dixon of Alabama.

Big Air Force, Navy Plans Are Revealed In Chamberlain Talk

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain intimated to the House of Commons today that Britain's navy and air force would be expanded.

Only yesterday reannounced doubling of the territorial army—corresponding to the United States National Guard—to 340,000 men.

Today he was asked by Lieutenant Commander R. T. H. Fletcher, member of the Labor opposition, if there also would be an expansion of the navy and airforce.

POLAND'S PLANS

Chamberlain replied that the question was under review and added:

"A statement will be made from time to time as conclusions are reached."

PLAN ARMY TRAINING

Chamberlain spoke after presiding at an emergency cabinet meeting which gave urgent consideration to steps Britain might take in the event of a new European emergency and to plans for training and equipping 210,000 recruits for the unprecedented peacetime expansion of her army.

"Fletcher can rest assured that every aspect of the present situation has been and is being kept

Wife Held in Third Mate's Death

BEG FOR HER BABY—Blocked by blood tests to prove baby's paternity, unwed Margaret Petitpas of Cambridge today declared she hoped nothing more from life than the return of her child, now in custody of the state. She seeks a job, or a home and husband.

NAMELESS BABY'S MOTHER HUNTS JOB

Blocked by the first scientific blood tests in the history of Massachusetts courts in her effort to prove fatherhood of her baby, an unwed Cambridge mother today pleaded to "have her baby back in her arms."

Revealing that the state is now taking care of her year-old daughter whom she may see but once a month, Margaret Petitpas of Dudley street, Cambridge, today said she hoped for no more from life than to have her child back, and perhaps to find a protector for her nameless daughter.

In an effort to force the man whom she accused of being the father of her baby to support the child, she brought charges against him in East Cambridge court.

There, however, the youth was found not guilty when Dr. Clyde E. Keeler, of the Harvard Medical School, backed up by two other eminent medical authorities, said blood tests proved he was not the parent.

TELLS LIFE STORY

Today the girl told the short and bitter story of her life to date. She said:

"My life has been so hard. My father is a carpenter, and I was one of 12 children. When I graduated from grammar school,

N. H. Woman Deputy

OSSIPEE, N. H., March 30 (AP)—Carroll County is not to be outdone by the town of Warren, which recently named a woman as police chief.

Sheriff James Welch announced today Mrs. Irene C. Bryant of Conway had been named a deputy sheriff and would assume her duties Saturday.

Asburnham Woman, 53, Sobs Denial of Poisoning

FITCHBURG, March 30—Mrs. Victoria LeFebvre, 53-year-old Ashburnham housewife, was seized by state police today and charged with murdering her husband by poison two months ago.

Fleurient LeFebvre, the alleged poison victim, was her third husband, police said. Her first husband was buried in Montreal; her second died three years ago of stomach trouble, officials said.

The accused widow was wearing three wedding rings when arrested, according to police.

At Fitchburg police headquarters for booking, preparatory for her formal arraignment, Mrs. LeFebvre burst into tears, crying:

"I didn't do it! I didn't do it! Why should I be charged with this horrible crime? There is no reason why I should want to kill my husband."

With an expensive fur coat over her shoulders, she knelt and prayed in the cell.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL

She was arraigned later in Fitchburg district court, before Associate Justice Aubrey Goodfellow.

When the clerk asked her, "Are you guilty or not guilty?" she answered in a low voice:

"I am not guilty. I didn't do it."

She was held without bail and committed to Windham County jail.

Police said she told them, during a 12-hour period of questioning:

"It's true I bought some poison here in Fitchburg, January 16. I bought it because my husband told me to. He wanted it to kill a mongrel dog we had at home.

"My husband told me the kind of poison to buy. I forget the name of the stuff now. I got it at a drug store and took it home. I put it in the kitchen and showed my husband where it was.

"The dog wasn't around that day, so he didn't use it.

HAD MANY QUARRELS

"If they really found poison in my husband's body he must have taken it himself. But there was no reason why he should.

"We did quarrel a lot. My husband secretly put a mortgage on the house. When I found out and asked him about it he got mad. And we had some fights about insurance.

"But I never did anything to

Murder, Attack Laid to Actor In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—Police today said they were holding Joseph D. Bushane, 43, an actor, in connection with the murder of Anya Sosoyeva, Russian dancer, on the campus of Los Angeles City College night school, February 24.

Bushane was arrested on a tip from an unidentified person, the spot where Miss Bogard was attacked.

Detectives questioned him about the near fatal attack yesterday on Delia Bogard, young film actress, but Bushane denied knowledge of both crimes.

However, officers said, Ethyl Chenette, 40, a circus performer, picked out Bushane from a group as the man who knocked her down and kicked her as she was returning from a theater last week near where Miss Bogard was attacked.

The Los Angeles City Council, in a resolution, sharply criticized the police and asked for a legal ruling on possibility of posting a reward for the attacker's capture.

Police Captain D. R. Patton, heading the homicidal detail, said he was convinced the assailant of Miss Bogard, once the pig-tailed "Tomboy Taylor" of the "Mickey McGuire" film series, was the same man who had bludgeoned Miss Sosoyeva to death.

Miss Bogard remained in a critical condition from a head injury.

MAYOR FINDS 'TRUTH' IN LYMAN CHARGE

Deer Island Probe To Start at Once

Finding "some truth" in a report of Correction Commissioner Arthur T. Lyman, Mayor Tobin today ordered immediate investigation of Lyman's charges that Deer Island house of correction reeked with waste, mismanagement, negligence, political influence and favoritism.

At the same time, Penal Institutions Commissioner John J. Douglas branded the Lyman report as a "mass of untruths." He charged "Lyman hasn't put a foot on the island in six years."

In a brief retort to his critics, Lyman reiterated today:

"The report speaks for itself. It's their problem now."

Douglas charged that the report was not formulated by the correction commissioner but by one of his subordinates.

"Since Jan. 1, 1938, no suspension by the master of the Decr Island House of Correction has ever been countermanded and no officer returned to duty over the master's head. Nor has any employee discharged for drunkenness been reinstated," said Douglas.

Douglas was supported by both Mayor Tobin, who said the original purpose for which he had requested Lyman to make the survey last fall had been "overlooked," and by Major George F. A. Mulcahy, head of the Deer Island colony.

CANNOT AFFORD CHANGES

"I have not been satisfied with conditions at Deer Island," said Mayor Tobin. "That was the reason why I requested the survey. There is never any excuse for uncleanliness. But I think the institution can be termed a clean one.

"The real purpose of the survey was to discover new industries which might provide some income to offset the expense of running the institution. That purpose has been overlooked in the survey and report.

"Unfortunately many of the conditions reported to me continue to exist at Deer Island because the city is not in the financial condition to make the expenditures necessary to remodel the institution."

That would require an expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000, Mayor Tobin said.

Climaxing the long list of charges concerning conditions on the island, Lyman recommended an entire reorganization of the institution with "the best possible man selected to replace the master."

Answering Lyman's charges of inefficiency, Mulcahy said:

"People in glass houses shouldn't undress in the daylight."

Douglas scoffed at Lyman's charge that municipal funds were wasted on herds of hogs and cattle, which were treated better than the inmates.

"Of course we take good care of them," he said. "The city has an income of $800 to $1000 a month from the cows, and a sale of some of the hogs next month will bring a revenue of nearly $2500.

"As for the treatment the inmates receive—there hasn't been a complaint in four years. The linen is changed in the dormitories every week."

Among charges made by Lyman were that certain persons "apparently received special privileges." He named Stephen Wallace, alias Gustin, former South Boston gang leader, and Thomas P. Galligan, former state prison convict, as two prisoners who enjoyed privileges denied others.

Wallace was sentenced to Deer Island for a two-and-a-half-year term on three counts of conspiracy to murder. He has since been released.

Deny Hurley Aide Faces Pay Cut

Reports of an impending cut in the $2900-a-year salary of Miss Helen Delay, state tax commission statistician, were denied today by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long.

"I have not been ordered to cut Miss Delay's pay and there is no prospect of any such cut being made," Long said.

Miss Delay was for six years private secretary to former Governor Charles F. Hurley. He appointed her to her tax commission post in the closing days of his administration.

Recent reports listed her as among Democratic job holders marked for Republican axe-swinging.

It now appears, however, that she is safe for a while from the present G. O. P. "purge" on Beacon Hill.

WOMAN, 70, PINNED TO WALL IN CRASH

Pinioned against a building after having been knocked through a fence, Miss Elizabeth Hayden, 70, of Exeter park, Cambridge, was injured today in an aftermath to a collision between a trailer truck and a light sedan.

At Cambridge Hospital fears were expressed for her recovery.

Miss Hayden, a school nurse, was on her way to the Roberts Grammar school from her home when at Harvard and Columbia streets the trailer, driven by Chester Ganester, 32, of Putnam street, Cambridge, was in collision with the sedan driven by Francis E. McAllen, 23, of Oakland street, Natick.

Miss Hayden, in the pathway of the truck, was brushed into the fence in front of the home of Mrs. Mary E. Ledger, Harvard street.

Fifty feet of the fence was knocked down before the truck stopped, pinning Miss Hayden to the building wall.

Yankee Clipper Reaches Lisbon

LISBON, March 30 (AP)—The 42-ton Yankee Clipper alighted here today, completing the second leg of her initial transatlantic journey.

The big Pan-American Airways flying boat covered the 1218 miles from Horta, the Azores, in six hours, 58 minutes. The "flying hotel," began her survey flight from Baltimore, Md., Monday with 21 fliers and technicians aboard.

California Clipper In Fast Honolulu Hop

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP)—The 74-passenger California Clipper arrived at Honolulu today, completing the first leg of its San Francisco-Hongkong flight with the largest passenger load ever to fly the Pacific.

The Clipper, with 36 persons aboard, made the 2400-mile flight to Honolulu in 15 hours, four minutes.

13 Flee Flames In Belmont Block

Thirteen persons, including six small children, were driven half-clad to the street today by a fire which broke out in the cellar of a three-apartment block in Beech street, Belmont.

Martin McNulty, first-floor tenant, discovered the blaze. His wife and four boys fled while he roused other occupants of the building.

These included Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Walsh and child, Mrs. Walsh's sister; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Blanchette and Patricia Blanchette, a daughter.

Damage was estimated at $1000.

Faces Sentence In Death of Wife

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 30—Mathew Baron, 57, of Cato st., Woonsocket, R. I., was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury on the superior court here in connection with the death of his wife, Julia, on Feb. 4. He will be sentenced at a later date and faces a possible 20-year sentence.

Warns Water To Be Cut Off

Use of water for all purposes will be curtailed to a considerable extent throughout the business district Monday, it was announced today by Public Works Commissioner George G. Hyland.

The shortage will be caused by the work of connecting up the new 42-inch cast iron water main, recently installed in Huntington avenue, to serve the downtown area. The connection will be made between St. Botolph and West Newton streets, work beginning at 8 o'clock Saturday, and it is scheduled to be finished by 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Water that will be available will be discolored, and unfit for drinking. Commissioner Hyland suggested hotels and buildings install booster pumps to insure supplies on upper floors.

Gable and Carole Go to Bride's Home

HOLLYWOOD, March 30 (AP)—Fun-loving Clarke Gable and Carole Lombard, who wrote the long-anticipated happy ending to the story of their courtship in a little Arizona town late yesterday, returned early today to the bride's Bel-Air home.

Exhausted by their 750-mile trip, they retired, to wait until later to move into the home on his one-mule San Fernando valley ranch, which Gable redecorated in preparation for the wedding.

Friends were not surprised when news of the ceremony reached here last night, although their absence from the film capital during the day had gone unnoticed. The marriage had been expected daily since the screen's No. 1 masculine star was given his freedom earlier this month by his second wife, Maria.

LICENSE CLERK STARTLED

They slipped in and out of Kingman so unobtrusively that only a half-dozen residents knew they were there. The license clerk, Viola Olsen, said she was so startled when she recognized them that she was almost speechless.

After issuing the license, she directed them to the parish house of the Rev. Kenneth M. Engle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

While Miss Lombard changed from a simple traveling suit to a gray flannel ensemble, the minister quickly arranged the details.

Inside the church, next door, Mrs. Engle played softly on the organ as the famous stars began their march. They walked down the aisle hand-in-hand to hear the pastor pronounce the ceremony, in which there was no word "obey."

CLARK KISSES BRIDE

As each said, "I take thee . . ." Gable slipped the ring on the actress' finger, kissed her and they hurried out.

But the news had not spread. Not a soul was waiting for them. Then they drove away.

But a few hours later, they were eating dinner in Needles and were later reported seen at other small communities on the highway across the Mojave desert, enroute home.

Gable was due back on the Selznick lot late today to continue work as Rhett Butler in "Gone With The Wind."

301st Will Hold Reunion May 25

The 301st Field Artillery Veterans' Association, which includes Governor Saltonstall as a member, will hold its annual banquet May 25 at the Hotel Westminster.

Auto Fee Shift Backed by Long

If the date for registration of automobiles is changed from January 1 to April 1 the state will benefit by between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 through increased sale of gasoline, a legislative committee was told today by Henry F. Long, state commissioner of taxation.

The commissioner was speaking before the committee on highways and motor vehicles on his own petition for a change in the period of registration and for corresponding changes in the law imposing an excise tax for such registration.

Such a change, Long said, would result in from 15 to 20 per cent more automobiles remaining on the road between the two dates, where now the owners put up their cars for the three-month period.

It would also benefit insurance companies, according to Long.

Parking Ban Traps 50 Drivers

More than 50 summonses were handed out by police today, the first "we-really-mean-it" day of the anti-parking ban in business thoroughfares.

Deputy Superintendent John T. O'Dea announced the ban will be continued indefinitely, its object being to free important streets from congestion due to parking between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 in the morning.

WPA Man Held For Patricide

NORTH ADAMS, March 30 (AP)—Sylvio Grandi, 35-year-old WPA worker, was charged today with the murder of his father, Dominic, 69, with a machinist's hammer and with attempting to murder Mrs. Alice LeGrande, 31, his neighbor. He pleaded innocent and was held for hearing April 13.

The elder Grandi was found bludgeoned to death in his candy store while Mrs. LeGrande was struck down in her apartment after a bitter struggle. She probably will recover.

Sylvio appeared in court with his head bandaged as a result, police said, of his struggle with Mrs. LeGrande.

Probe Maine Fires Costing Lives of 3

BATH, Me., March 30—An official probe was launched today into the causes of two fires which claimed three victims in the North street neighborhood.

The bodies of Charles Emerson, 3, and his brother, John, Jr., nine months old, were recovered from the ruins of the filling station home. The children perished as the mother visited her parents next door. In the other fire Emery Rideout, Jr., 26, died rescuing personal effects from his burning farm home.

7 DEAD IN STORM

ATLANTA, Ga., March 30 (INS)—At least seven were dead and an undetermined number were missing today, while numerous others suffered injuries as the result of torrential rains which swept the southeastern states last night.

Paralysis Halted By New Medicine

PONCA CITY, Okla., March 30 (AP)—A Ponca City doctor asserted today sulfapyridine apparently has been successful in treatment of a nine-year-old girl for what he diagnosed as anterior poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the journal of the American Medical Association, said in Kansas City, however, the case could not be regarded as definite evidence of the curative power of sulfapyridine for the disease.

The doctor reporting the case declined to permit use of his name.

HOPEFUL OF CURE

"The results have been startling in this particular case," he said.

"However, as to its effects in another case, I cannot tell, but I believe it is a cheering indication we may expect a specific cure for this disease."

At the medical information bureau of the New York Academy of Medicine, it was said infantile paralysis is of unorthodox behavior, frequently with remissions setting in spontaneously, so that remission of the disease in this case could not be unequivocally ascribed to administrations of the drug.

The patient, nine-year-old Elizabeth Maddox, was resting at her home today. The doctor said he first saw the girl the fourth day of her illness when he said her temperature was 104½, and treatment was started.

HALTS PARALYSIS

Her temperature was reduced to normal 24 hours later, the doctor said.

He said one of the girl's legs, partly paralyzed, is in a cast, but there has been no advance of the paralysis since sulfapyridine was administered.

"The importance of it to me, as a doctor," he said, "is that it lends hope to the public that in the future we can control this dread disease.

"I do not want any credit. I did not develop the drug. I merely used it in a case of poliomyelitis because I believed it would work."

The drug, reported successful in treatment of pneumonia and influenza meningitis in Kansas and Oklahoma, was released by the government for general use a week ago.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

ASHAWAY, R. I., March 30—Robert Dow, 12, of Noose Neck road, was crushed to death in an elevator while riding with his stepfather, Frank Hill. The boy looked out of the shaft and his head struck a beam.

2 Bandits Identify Victims in Lineup

Once again today at Boston police headquarters, prisoners held as bandits identified their victims after the victims had failed to identify the prisoners.

At least five holdups, some of them involving "kidnaping" of auto drivers who later were put out of the cars, were admitted in the line-up by Douglas McPherson, 20, of Southern avenue, Dorchester, and Frank Coughlin, 26, of Essex street, Lynn.

According to police of Mattapan station, Coughlin is an ex-convict, paroled from state prison. He was unarmed when arrested, but McPherson had a .38-caliber revolver, police said.

In the lineup, they said a number of their holdups were accomplished with toy guns.

IDENTIFY VICTIMS

Although they admitted only the five holdups and robberies—in none of which they obtained much money—police believe they are responsible for many more.

McPherson identified Sigfried Horovitz, Mountfort street, Back Bay, storekeeper, as one of their victims, and Robert Dorgan of East Seventh street, South Boston, as a motorist victim.

Only $2 was obtained from Dorgan, the youthful bandit said, after McPherson, Coughlin and a third man had jumped into Dorgan's car when it was stopped for a light at Berkeley street and Commonwealth avenue.

Dorgan was taken to Norfolk and Wentworth streets, Dorchester, and thrown out of the car.

LIGHTS HELP HOLDUPS

With the same car, according to McPherson, the youths drove to the Ashmont Spa in Dorchester avenue, Ashmont, and while McPherson remained at the wheel his two companions robbed the proprietor of $18 and a box of cigars.

On the following day, January 30, the bandit trio jumped into a car stopped for the lights at Broadway and Tremont street and took the driver to Savin Hill, Dorchester, where he was thrown out after being robbed of $2, a watch and a ring.

The same trio, according to McPherson, jumped into the car of Fred Wing of Magnolia avenue, Newton, on February 4, while it was stopped at Lincoln and Essex streets, downtown.

Wing was robbed of $2 and was taken to Canton before being tossed out.

On the same day the trio robbed the proprietor of a grocery store in Woodrow avenue, Dorchester, of $6, McPherson said.

They were held for arraignment

Mourns Husband, 2-Year-Old Girl

With Mrs. James Corcoran of Pequot street, Roxbury, in a state of collapse, relatives today arranged funeral services for her husband and two-year-old daughter, both taken from her in tragic deaths.

The father died of pneumonia at City Hospital while his daughter, Margaret, was crushed to death by an oil truck as she played in the street.

Mrs. Corcoran was on the way to hear of her husband's death at the hospital when a truck driven by George N. Dunn, Jr., of Hillside street, Roxbury, backed over the child. Dunn raced the little victim to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

Unaware of the tragic fate which had overtaken her baby, Mrs. Corcoran returned from the hospital in a state of semi-collapse.

Informed of the accident, she became hysterical.

The youngster was the third child killed by an oil truck in Roxbury during the past five weeks.

Dunn was backing his truck into a vacant field where the children were playing, in order to attach the delivery hose to an intake oil pipe on the side of the Corcoran home, when the accident occurred, and did not know that he had struck the Corcoran child until he heard the screaming of her playmates.

Among the children were Margaret's elder brother, Jackie, 7, in whose care she had been left by her mother, and another brother, Billie, 4.

Police said that Dunn is a nephew of James F. Dunn, 40, of Pontiac st., Roxbury, whose truck backed over and fatally injured Charles McCusker, 4½, of Fisher ave., Roxbury, outside his home a few weeks ago.

Catholic Solon Hits Attack on Governor

(By Associated Press)

A prediction that every Catholic office holder "from clerk to commissioner" would be "purged" from the state service by October 1 was made today by a Democratic legislator, who was promptly assailed by a Catholic Republican as "insincere and biased."

Shortly after Rep. Paul J. McCarthy (D) of Somerville had attacked Republican Governor Leverett Saltonstall's administration for allegedly employing "religious, racial and political considerations" in filling jobs, Rep. Edward Sirois of Lawrence, assistant Republican floor leader in the House, declared McCarthy intimated his action because the governor declined to help him obtain a job through non-competitive examination.

The legislators testified at a public hearing before the joint committee on rules considering the admission of McCarthy's bill for a legislative investigation to determine whether "religious and racial considerations" affected appointments and discharges since Saltonstall took office last January.

PREDICTS JOB "PURGE"

McCarthy charged there had been "a systematic purge of office-holders since Governor Saltonstall took office and I am fearful that, despite denial, by October 1 every Catholic office-holder from clerk to commissioner will have lost his job."

McCarthy further said Elmer Nelson, a former Republican legislator, described by him as "the axe swinger" for the Republican administration, had a "complete list of all appointees under the Democratic administrations of Governors Ely, Curley and Hurley."

Declaring the governor "needs no defense," Sirois, a Catholic, asserted "my whole religious and racial background would cry out against my party if there was anything in the governor's action that even in the slightest indicated that he was prejudiced."

Sirois declared "we hear Democrats have been fired. After all, this is a Republican administration and being so, if jobs are available, aren't Republicans entitled to them?"

HAS CATHOLIC AIDES

Sirois said that he asked McCarthy yesterday to leave the words "religious" and "racial" out of his order asking an investigation and that if he did so "I told him I might go along with him in asking the investigation as our governor has nothing to hide in his appointments."

Of 30 employes on the governor's staff, Sirois said 15 were Catholics and that Daniel J. Lynch, the governor's personal secretary for many years, also was a Catholic.

Citing a long list of appointments of Catholics made by Saltonstall, Sirois named specifically Walter H. Downey, who was "given one of the most important jobs in the states as commissioner of education."

DEFENDS HIS ACTION

Another appointment, Sirois said, was that of Rev. Fr. George O'Connor, a Catholic priest, who was named a trustee of Perkins Institute and was a close personal friend of the governor.

"I have no apology to make for including the words 'religious and racial' in that order," McCarthy said, defending his action.

"There are 2,000,000 Catholics in Massachusetts at the present time.

"There has been a systematic purge of office-holders since Governor Saltonstall took office and I am fearful that, despite denial, by October 1 every Catholic office-holder from clerk to commissioner will have lost his job."

A Pocketful

ROXBORO, N. C., March 30 (AP)—Suddenly remembering he had left his coat hanging on a tree the day before, C. B. Adcock hastened to get it.

Inside a pocket a wren sat serenely on four tiny eggs.

Adcock said the coat would stay until the wren had raised her family.

Vermont Man Killed In Freak Accident

RANDOLPH, Vt., March 30—Ramson H. Buck, 60, was dead here today, victim of a freak accident in which his son, Wendell, 14, was the principal.

Buck was seated in automobile paint shop when the boy started a car on the floor knocking a stove over which pinned him to the floor. The man lived a few minutes.

Task of Rebuilding Now Faces Franco

MADRID, March 30 (AP)—Spanish Nationalists, with all 52 provinces of Spain under their guns today, faced a long struggle to reconstruct the country torn by 32 months of savage civil war.

Generalissimo Franco's military police rounded up thousands of Republicans for classification, and perhaps trial, as a prelude to the great social task.

General Espinosa De Los Monteros gave the military conquest in Casa Central during the civil war and declared a technical state of war on effect martial law until Madrid is restored to normalcy.

MALREDNOS WARNED

Proclamations posted throughout the city warned Madrileños of summary court martial and death by a firing squad for any who fail to surrender firearms, explosives or propaganda and poisonous materials within 24 hours.

The war numbed populace continued peace demonstrations in the streets of the fallen capital, while awaiting food from the country's stream of supply trucks that followed Franco's legions into the city.

Gunfire was heard in the Ensorial sector of greater Madrid. Frightened civilians steered clear of that zone for fear of stray bullets. "Mop-up operations," said the Nationalists in explanation of the gunfire.

Nationalists estimated that 40,000 Republican prisoners were taken in the Madrid area alone but many Republican militiamen still wandered about the streets mingling with Spanish Fascists who had been their enemies.

85,000 PRISONERS

A Nationalist headquarters announcement from Burgos said that in all, 85,000 prisoners had been taken in the final collapse of the republic, raising to 600,000 the total captured since the outbreak of the war.

The Burgos government announced that all members of the surrendered Republican defense council, save General Jose Miaja, [illegible] Minister General Segismundo Casado, had been granted asylum in Valencia.

Poland Urges Good Relations

WARSAW, March 30 (AP)—Polish leaders, urged by France and Great Britain to join a bloc against further German expansion, called on Germany through the press today to continue good relations between the two countries.

With Polish and German representatives reported reliably to have begun conversations on the future status of the free city of Danzig, the newspaper Kurjer Poranny published by Marshal Smigly Rydze's national unity movement, made a bid for continued warm relations with the Reich.

WON'T STOP TRADE

Asked by Geoffrey L. Mander, opposition Liberal, if he would propose that the British empire and [illegible] within it from German economic control to rearm, Chamberlain answered that he would not stop the present trade [illegible] proposed.

Commander Herbert Williams proposed that such action "would be tantamount to war at once."

Chamberlain answered there would be a foreign affairs debate next Sunday.

He was said to have decided to call the special cabinet session after conferring last night on latest European developments, particularly Germany's press campaign against Poland with King George, who was his guest at a dinner at No. 10 Downing Street.

France, Rumania Plan Trade Pact

PARIS, March 30 (AP)—France and Rumania, it was learned informed quarters, expect to sign a commercial accord today by which France will double her purchases of Rumanian petroleum. The move was interpreted here as a counter-move to the German Rumanian accord signed a week ago. It was reported that France would lower duties on a number of Rumanian agricultural products. A second decree was expected at the same time putting into execution an accord with Yugoslavia containing similar provisions.

Britain Bars "Even Hitler Had A Mother"

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—The Earl of Clarendon, lord chamberlain, who keeps a close check on Britain's stage, today banned a song entitled "Even Hitler Had a Mother."

It was to have been sung in a revue scheduled to open April 20 at the Little Theater.

The lord chamberlain explained that nobody was permitted "to hold up the head of a state to ridicule."

STUDY POISON PACKAGE

They said the bed contained a of the poison allegedly by Mrs. LaFebvre and to her by a Fitchburg store apparently unopened.

Careful examination of the package revealed that it had been reand after a portion of the con-
had been removed, the officers said.

Marriage and contents were both being studied today at the state police laboratory in Boston.

Several cases of roaches and rough who reported Mrs. LaFebvre had heard poison prior to her husband's death, led to the investigation, officials asserted.

"There is evidence indicating LaFebvre had been given poison in food," McCarthy said.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

"This is My body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of Me."—ST. LUKE XXII, 19.

By COLLIN CLINE

THE BEAUTIFUL [illegible] painted more than half a century ago by Paul [illegible], [illegible] French artist, masterfully depicts one of the most significant [illegible] of Christ's holy life.

[illegible] the loyal Peter cried:

"Lord I am ready to go with Thee, both into prison and to death."

But Jesus replied:

"I tell thee Peter the cock shall not crow this day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me."

DIXIE DAVIS MAKES ARRANGEMENTS FOR MARRIAGE

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, March 30—Hope Dare, who is married to a composer, is the first girl I've met who has refused to wear short dresses, saying the marriage was Mr. Dare's property . . . and I said that she would lose it. Dixie Davis, I suppose, is the only lawyer who ever married a client. A bought the American rights to "Ah, Wilderness!" just as it was being produced, and appeared in the WPA Federal Theatre production. Sing for Your Supper will be the title of the book I'm writing about the WPA Federal Theatre Project.

JOAN CRAWFORD

LAST WEEK, after seeing Greta Garbo in "Ninotchka," Lilian Gish was reported to have declared that she intended to write to Garbo to suggest that the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences cable Premier Daladier and Albert Bartholomew: "We would like you to cable an appeal to Chamberlain against the Czech protest." "and add your own name to the protest," Miss Gish was advised. She looked up at the sky and asked: "But do you think Mr. Chamberlain will know who I am?"

ICE FRIES . . . Ina Ray Hutton, the ex-Queen of Rhythm, will star in a specially constructed ice show at the Hippodrome in Baltimore, the property on which the Ice Follies will open in May. I get a claque from Fanchon and Marco: "and f-f-for $1.65 we applaud when your n-n name is flashed on the s-screen. That's our straight s-s-service" . . . "What other service is there?" he was asked . . . "The $25 de luxe s-s service," Frisco explained. "N-n-not only do we applaud your n-n name b-b but we hiss the others."

ROSCOE ILENEE, who won a Harmon Award, is very much annoyed that I reported him. The award carries a cash prize, Ilenee's pride said it was given to him for being the best flyer in America. And yet the same award has awarded the trophy to Howard Hughes, another American, for being the best flyer in the world.

FRANCHOT TONE and Joan Crawford kept their dinner date . . . But they weren't as unemotional as they pretended to be . . . Their bill at the night club revealed the truth and destroyed the illusion . . . It showed "9 Scotches."

THE NOMINATION of William O. Douglas to the Supreme Court bench was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee . . . There was objection at first that he is not a Westerner because, although he was born in the Far West, he has spent much of his life in Connecticut . . . Senator Borah started to convince the dissenters that such an objection was not a proper one . . . "And, besides," another Senator criticized, "Douglas cusses an awful lot" . . . "Well," said Borah, "that PROVES he's a Westerner!"

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE DEER ISLAND HENNERY will be the target of the most powerful rays from the trumpet of Commissioner Arthur Lyons . . . You may remember that Major George Mansfield, warden of Deer Island, was watched a night or two by a reporter who, at several report had been "arrested" by the mayor and was now in Florida . . . Were we to suggest an extradition to Miami to request Mansfield's return to Mayor Tobin to respond to charges? . . . Lyons is to order a modern penal colony for the island, replacing present Hennery . . . Associates of the Lyons say that Democratic opposition to it is futile and that it will be done . . . They will try to speed it up . . . The first test will be provided by the recent escape made possible by a crumbling fortress.

EXCLUSIVE . . . Tonight in Boston's first extra-legal night club, the Latin Quarter on Stuart street, Sammy Cahn and Saul Chaplin, the boys who wrote the Hockey song, "The Three Little Pigs" and the Yiddish version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Italian version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Spanish version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Chinese version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Japanese version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Russian version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the German version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the French version of "The Three Little Pigs" and the Boston version of "The Three Little Pigs" . . . Your correspondent has been invited to attend the opening night . . . Any other night, I'd be there . . . But tonight I'm busy . . . And I'm sorry.

FOR TONIGHT'S OPENING . . . The golden Cue Lo Sun Color Wonder Girls, direct from Sweden, certainly have been getting around . . . Among male members of the Latin Quarter's opening night audience will be several of the Sun Dial Restaurant's most ardent patrons . . . Mayor Curley, Jimmy Fidler and Mayor Lyons of Lynn . . . Also expected are Jack Dempsey, Hildegarde, Ben Bernie and Jack Lait . . . Hildegarde has been booked into the Latin Quarter for two weeks, starting next June . . . Kathryn Dougherty of the Arts Institute is taking Hildegarde's "Serenade" as part of Newspaper Week.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY . . . Arthur Caesar is reading Sam Goldwyn's script to make it suitable for Ann Sothern . . . For your information, Jesse L. Lasky is a Democrat . . . Boston has a new night club, Sam Goldwyn's Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom . . . He's Ann Rutt proprietor of the Mayfair . . . From time to time his services will be requested, it's said . . . But a tiff for the post gubernatorial George C. McKay is already on . . . "This week in Boston, Likes George over the jumps in its current revue, but makes the mistake when this column does not choose sides . . . We go to the theater to see" in his boxing gloves, and if for proof that there can be only one MacKinnon . . . Consider this: "Izzy Ort, producer, is confecting up an 'Easter Parade Show' for his grill . . . 'It'll be a pretty nice thing,' Izzy confides to his intimates." . . . Confiding it to his intimates and telling about it in MacKinnon's goulash should insure Mr. Ort that the pretty nice thing will be a major success!

Then George goes international on us, and try this one on your mental reflexes: "Before Adolf the Cat and Benito the Fox get through with him, Pinocchio Chamberlain will need a smile for his umbrella—and another one for his pants" . . . When mere mystifying metaphors are mixed MacKinnon will mix them . . . They say the barber who kept above the throat line in removing the MacKinnon mustache has been classified as anti-social.

ANOTHER MAY WEDDING of considerable interest to Boston society will be that of Harris Fahnestock, Jr., of Cambridge, to the attractive Frances Jeffrey of Chicago . . . The ceremony will take place on May 1, in the Windy City, home of the prospective bride's aunt, Miss Frances Whedon . . .

WILLIAM G. ROELKER HELEN ROELKER

Only the immediate families of the couple will witness the ceremony, which will be followed by a large reception at Chicago's exclusive Casino Club where Frances made her debut two years ago . . . Mrs. Russell T. Foster of Cleveland and Mrs. Harold Hertog, cousin of the bride, will be the only attendants . . . Mrs. Hertog, the former Nancy Doering of Chicago has been living in Europe since her marriage, but is coming home in time for the wedding . . .

Mr. Fahnestock, who is engaged in the aviation business here, will bring his bride to Boston to live . . . He is the son of Mr. Harris Fahnestock of New York, a graduate of St. Mark's and Harvard, and a member of the Tennis and Racquet Club . . .

In the meantime, before the all-important date rolls around, the couple is being widely feted . . . This week-end they are visiting the senior Fahnestocks in Gotham, who are entertaining at a dinner dance in their honor . . .

Proparvulis Breakfast Sunday

Rev. Bruno Hitler, S. J., vice president of the Catholic University at Tokio, will speak on The Church in Troubled Times at the Proparvulis Club communion breakfast Sunday morning in the Hotel Somerset. Mass preceding the breakfast will be celebrated at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at nine o'clock.

Seated at the head table will be all the past presidents, Mrs. Mary M. Comerford, Mary L. Brennan, Anna Copell, Anna V. Boyle, Anna Comerford, Doris G. Cahill, Helen Stout, Grace Dalton, Katherine M. Devine and Mrs. Julia Clark Mantle, chairman of the affair.

Among members of the executive committee who will attend are Mrs. Dora Clexton Rooney, Mary H. Ward, Helen Brennan, Mrs. Casimir D. Flaherty, Agnes McArdle and Marguerite Sweeney.

Ruth Draper's Programs

At today's matinee at the Plymouth, Ruth Draper will repeat "In a Church in Italy," "Doctors" and "At a Children's Party in Philadelphia." The new sketches will be "A French Dressmaker" and "A Dalmatian Peasant in the Hall of a New York Hospital."

"At an English Houseparty," "A Class in Greek Poise" and "Three Breakfasts" will be seen tonight for the first time during Miss Draper's present engagement. "Three Generations in a Court of Domestic Relations" and "In a Railway Station on the Western Plains" will also be presented.

Tomorrow evening Miss Draper will repeat her opening night's program, one of the most popular in her entire repertoire.

GREENLEAF EXHIBIT TO OPEN ON MONDAY

An exhibition of oil paintings by Jacob Greenleaf will be shown at Boston City Club starting Monday and continuing through April 24.

Mr. Greenleaf, a past president of the Business Men's Art Club, is a graduate of the Vilna Art School.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Mitton of Boston are spending a brief holiday in New York, where they are guests at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

FRANCES L. HYLAND
Wakefield Girl on Committee

With many members of Greater Boston's young set serving on the committee, the Baton Club's first ball of the season Saturday evening at the Hotel Somerset should be one of the merriest of the spring season.

Unusual decorations and a whirl of song and dance acts has been planned by the committee, including Marion North of Wakefield, Eleanor Lee of Wakefield, Helen Barker of Boston, Robert Appel of Newton and Elizabeth Haywood of Boston.

Among those who will play host to large parties at the gathering are Constance Sager of Salem, William Dooly of Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Nichols of Andover, Louise Rood of Quincy.

JANE ALLEY WEDS IN VERMONT CEREMONY

The marriage of Miss Jane Alley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crosby Alley of New York City, to J. Barrows Mussey of Wellesley, is taking place today at the Gilford, Vermont, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Alley.

The bride has studied in Boston and Paris, and Mr. Mussey, son of Professor Henry Raymond Mussey of Wellesley College, attended Columbia University and also studied in France and Germany.

Dainty Fish Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

[illegible] will sound the knell for the days of March. Even [illegible] Lent, but no reason offered to [illegible] tempting menus for [illegible] They are equally [illegible] and if any of the members of your family are [illegible] their food, they'll be [illegible] when they behold these dishes.

[illegible] and lambs [illegible] The [illegible] of [illegible] Baked Fish [illegible] Fish Puree [illegible] as good as it looks.

BOILED FILLET OF FLOUNDER WITH DILL PICKLE STUFFING

[illegible] cup boiled onion
4 cup butter
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped capers
1 tablespoon chopped dill pickle
1 [illegible] juice of lemon
[illegible] cup boiled salmon
[illegible] egg

[illegible] onion until [illegible] Add [illegible] bread crumbs, salt, pepper, capers and pickle. Mix well. Add [illegible] egg and [illegible] Add [illegible] lemon juice to [illegible] mixture. Spread [illegible] fillets with [illegible] Roll [illegible] fillets. Place in [illegible] dish. Add [illegible] water. Bake [illegible] oven (350 degrees F.) [illegible] minutes. Serve with [illegible] Makes 6 servings.

BAKED FISH WITH LEMON-CELERY STUFFING

[illegible] baked cakes
[illegible] of lightly [illegible]
[illegible] cup chopped celery
[illegible] cup chopped stuffed olives
[illegible] teaspoon salt
[illegible] teaspoon pepper
[illegible] tablespoons lemon juice
[illegible] tablespoon grated lemon rind
[illegible] cup butter
[illegible] pound fish (cod, haddock or halibut)
Celery salt
Paprika
Melted butter

Combine all ingredients except fish. Stuff fish with stuffing mixture and fasten with skewers. Place on greased pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1½ hours. Serve with the following sauce:

2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups medium white sauce

Beat yolks and lemon juice into the white sauce and serve with baked fish.

DILL PICKLES and capers in the filling of these rolled flounder fillets lend just the right flavor to the dish. If flavor alone is not sufficient recommendation, chalk up a count in favor of this recipe because it is simplicity itself to prepare and serve. Perfect for the last days of Lent. It is also a year 'round family-pleaser.

SALMON SAVORY ROLLETTES

2 cups flour
¾ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons shortening
2/3 cup milk
Baked salmon

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a soft dough, stirring just enough to make [illegible] Turn out [illegible] and [illegible] Roll [illegible] Cut [illegible] Bake [illegible] Serve [illegible] with [illegible] Makes [illegible] rolls.

Age No Bar to Happy Marriage

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've been married now for four [illegible] We [illegible] I secretly married a man quite a lot older than myself, my friends and relatives were horrified.

I think the secret of our success [illegible] is that we are [illegible] interested in the same things are congenial, both anxious to help [illegible] and [illegible] try to secure our own feelings for each other. In fact we are not a bit jealous of each other. He has given me a small car and it never occurs to him to question where I go or what I do. We have a two-year-old son who [illegible] my father's life.

The reason I am writing is to ask why it is that people always think it's shocking to marry a man much older than yourself. We have had a hard time financially as much so as any other middle-class family, but we have worked together and love has made it easy for us.

HAPPY WIFE.

You have my congratulations on your happy solution of the all important problem. It isn't a difference in years that counts so much as a difference in tastes, ideas and standards as your happy marriage has proven. The real reason why [illegible] are said not to make ideal husbands is that they're "set" in their ways and don't have to make concessions to please the older half. If [illegible] never evident, [illegible] and [illegible] pleasure, together with members of my party, to be received by His Holiness in the first audience which he granted as Pope. The Holy Father was most gracious and recalled with great enthusiasm his visit to America and to Boston and he sent his affectionate blessing to all our people."

It was his first intention to remain aboard the Vulcania which will head for Boston from New York but on arriving here he decided to take the Eastern steamship Company night boat arriving in Boston tomorrow morning at 7:30.

OTHERS ESCORTING HIM

He was to remain on the Vulcania this afternoon and then ... to the Boston boat.

The cardinal was accompanied ... his own home by Monsignor John ... Minihan, Monsignor M. J. Splaine of Lynn, Joseph I. O'Connell, superior Judge ... who was invited to be a guest of the cardinal, and Dr. John J. Dowling.

Cardinal O'Connell started the voyage to Vatican City with considerable trepidation and not feeling so well," he reported.

But he added

"I was determined to do my duty and fulfill my high office as an elector of the Pontiff. It was due my position and due America that I should go

"I thank God that I was able to take part in all the functions without ...my special fatigue, and the voyage back was a good rest."

VISITED BY EX-KING

The churchman said he was impressed with the tremendous interest in the election of the Pope and in his own efforts to reach Rome in time for it.

"A little family in Brittany—people that I never had heard of—wrote that they had prayed for my safe arrival. They knew I had missed two elections before," the cardinal reported. "Isn't that amazing? I have had letters from people of all classes, all religions, written in the same vein."

While in Rome, he ... was visited by Alfonso ... former king of Spain and ... Princess Eugenie of the royal house of Italy.

United States Ambassador Wilson Bhodes and Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to England, who made an advance representative of President Roosevelt at the coronation, also visited him.

SITS FOR PORTRAIT

Maj. Gen. Fitzhugh Browne, ... portrait artist prevailed upon Cardinal O'Connell during the visit to Rome for five sittings for an oil painting. The portrait was arranged for by Henry A. Wise Wood, a printing press inventor, who was also a passenger on the boat and who said he would present it to the city of Boston in memory of his mother, Alice Fenner Mills Wood.

Mr. Wood, who is a Protestant, said that his mother had been converted to Catholicism and that she was a great admirer of Cardinal O'Connell.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say kidneys contain 15 miles of tubes or filters which help purify the blood and aid in keeping you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints of liquid a day which contains poisonous waste matter. But when kidneys fail to function as they should, these poisons may remain in your system and cause trouble.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen ankles, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste. Get Doan's Pills

Relive Kidney-Bladder Passages
WITHOUT DIURETIC PILLS
Be better at night.

One of the safest, best known remedies in all the world for many disturbances, is Santal Midy, a capsule rich in East Indian sandalwood oil. Santal Midy helps to dilute excess acidity of urine, which is the frequent cause of many kidney-bladder irritations. Santal Midy Capsules aid in making the urine bland and thus helps to soothe the sensitive membranes. Don't burden your system with strong diuretic pills but soothing Santal Midy and you—they cost a bit more, but are well worth it. Insist on real Santal Midy Capsules at your druggist.

Easter Bonnets Their Oyster!

Instead of readin', 'riting, and 'rithmetic at the Trade School for Girls, they learn millinery, dressmaking, cookery and care of the baby—and power stitching.

A sewing girl graduate can train, but Easter bonnets and that's not all! But a real graduate gets a job.

The real creations of Mme. Alice or the chapeaux of Dache fail to dote for, because dress and hats are her AIDS, and, all in all, she's a most competent young lady, this girl from the Fenway institute. So, men—a word to the wise is sufficient.

One-Plate Cars Snag Brothers

ATHOL, March 30 (AP) — The Gates brothers, Herbert, 33, and Norman, 29, were shy just two registration plates, police charged today when they attempted to drive two automobiles from Gardner to Athol.

State Trooper Stephen Mucha said he saw the brothers driving two cars with double duty tandem plates, that is, one plate on the front of the first car, and the second plate, of the same number, on the rear of the second car, which the men had planned to junk.

"It's a long way between plates," said Mikosh as he booked Herbert for having no license and Norman for having only one set of plates.

BRADSHAW Bay State Business Picture Studied

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

Latest figures on Massachusetts' business activity this year reveal it is a somewhat spotty affair . . . With room for improvement showing in needed directions.

A study of the figures compiled by the State Planning Board series by Chairman Elizabeth M. Herlihy uncovers several items that overshadow the gain of 9.3 per cent shown by the composite index . . . First in importance is the low level of new building . . . The actual figure in percentage terms of the considered 100 normal of the years 1925-27 is 10.7 for February . . . This is a loss of 3.2 points from the level of February 1938 . . .

New building is the big need of recovery hereabout . . . There is obviously plenty of room for improvement . . . Which, solely in view of the current low level, will probably take place in the weeks ahead . . .

Of the other components of the index, electric power production was outstanding, with a 15 per cent gain . . . Factory employment improved and shoe production held steady . . . While cotton textile activity upped 30.6 per cent its figure of 45.2 per cent of the 1925-27 average reveals more clearly than words the losses encountered in that section of recent years . . .

PERSONAL BITS . . . Today include mention of the election of Richard A. Booth as treasurer of the Springfield Institution of Savings . . . To succeed Alfred H. Hastings who was recently elected president . . . Ezra S. Eaton has been re-elected president of Hampden Spa . . . He is the son of the Spa's founder and has been connected with the business since 1910 . . . Walter H. Byron, of Boston, who appeared before the House Committee in support of extension of Presidential devaluation powers . . . Is a cousin of Representative Byron of Maryland . . . And is said to have based his approval of the measure on observations made while following his hobby of charting population and commodity price movements . . .

HERE AND THERE . . . Shawsheen Village may shortly become a college center . . . American International College of Springfield has been made what State Streeters consider an attractive offer . . . To purchase on easy terms an entire new plant, including an athletic field . . . The property was once occupied by American Woolen . . . Essex-Mass St. Ry. is still our favorite bus line . . . February net was $4,967, before provision for retirement losses . . . And the first two months of the year show a net of $14,777 against $28,245 in the comparable period a year ago . . . Which shows the company is extremely sensitive to general recovery trends . . .

RUKEYSER Professional Gloom Fallacious Doctrine

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER
International News Service Economic Commentator

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29—Professional pessimists who have their innings during depressions, have been exploiting the idea that America's geographical frontiers have disappeared.

The fallacy lies in failure to recognize that the creative mind is on the realm of science and invention is fast opening up new frontiers.

Out here leaders of thought and industry are suggesting that exploitation of the section will constitute the new frontier of the West.

Leaders in the 11 Western states joined together last year in an elaborate inventory of the economic resources and industry of the section. Publicly owned and privately owned power enterprises cooperate with the state of California in financing the major research in this direction carried on by the Industrial West, Inc., under Director Guy of George W. Malone, one-time state engineer of Nevada.

For, since last June engineers and fact finders have been building up a vast body of information on this subject which soon will be made public.

Asked to give the readers of this column a preview of the findings, Mr. Malone said: "Industrially speaking, we are in the primary stage of development. The West grew at first by developing its supplies of raw materials, its mines, its timber resources, and later its fisheries and agriculture. From now on our development may be expected to be in further processing of these raw materials instead of shipping them to other regions for processing and returning the finished article to our markets.

"In the next decade more and more opportunities will be found in Manufacturing our semi-finished products, chiefly for our own growing markets, but also for export and in some cases for shipment to the more populous East. This stage is generally slow in developing. It requires population.

"Manufacturers who have their processing plants and factories already established in the East generally prefer to supply all markets from that plant by shipping long distances and distributing from branch warehouses. This situation continues until they are threatened with loss of their market by more enterprising competitors who may establish branch plants and take advantage of local raw materials, of the splendid climatic conditions, and of nearness to the growing local markets. It is the purpose of our work to stimulate these industrial prospects into action.

ICC Extends B&M Loan Maturities

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission granted the Boston & Maine [illegible] one-year extension today on paying Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans aggregating $10,671,834.

In extending the [illegible] the commission found the Boston & Maine not to be in need of financial reorganization at this time.

Chairman Marion M. Caskie and commissioners Charles D. Mahaffie and Clyde B. Aitchison dissented.

"A prudent creditor considering his own position as a creditor, would, I think, grant the extension as a matter of sound business judgment," Mahaffie wrote. "The creditor here, however, is the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. We, under the act, have a different function. In order to approve the extension, we must certify that the applicant is 'not in need of financial reorganization in the public interest.' Considering the earnings history, financial structure and prospects of the applicant, I am unable to join in that certificate."

The $10,671,834 debt fell due February 1, the extension to February 1, 1941.

The Boston & Maine has forecast net income of $[illegible] for the current year. It has not been sufficient to pay its fixed charges in every recent year except 1936 and 1938 when it [illegible] deficits were $1,654,185 and $5,113,279.

Maturities of the line in 1939 after extension of the I.C.C. [illegible] amount to $2,419,000 of which $126,900 has already been paid.

Austen Lake:

Analysis of Bruins And Rangers Brawl

WHY IS IT, DO YOU THINK, THAT the Bruins and Rangers hockey athletes, all normal male types with families and responsibilities change into temporary heathen when dropped onto a rectangle of ice and hence to an instant boil. Why is it, would you say, that the eye-filling lunacy called hockey turns docile Christian people into twice-a-week hoodlums capable of clubbing each other over the pot or yelling such words as cannot be found in Roget's thesaurus.

AUSTEN LAKE

You cannot pay men to get as mad as the Bruins and Rangers got toward one another last Tuesday evening when they held a tong war in the New York Garden. Or, if you could, you couldn't pay the hockey players in proportion to the emotion expended or the busts, gouges and bumps accumulated during that game. For the average wage of the hockey pro is about $4500, or a fraction of the pay-per-working -hour to contemporary pro athletes in other lines who never get as angry or industrious at twice the salary. Why Eddie Shore soaked up more savagery in three minutes than a baseball player absorbs in six months. None of the performers in the pampered sports ever tosses so much of his soul in with his body, blood, bones and gristle as Eddie, or suffers so magnificently while complaining less. And why?

Shore Never Learned to Loaf

PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY IS A FOREIGNED GAME, played by imported players. It may be that the pro hockey athletes are deluded by the notion that they are playing a fun game instead of toiling at a trade and, being Canadians and therefore never having been subjected to the softening influences of athletic ease, have not yet learned to slur their work or do better for themselves by doing worse for their employers. For in the rival brotherhood of professional sport the hired hands learned long ago that if they performed more spectacularly they saved wear and tear on their vital parts and in consequence, protected their wage earning some years beyond the arc of expectancy. Shore never learned this simple axiom.

Well and why shouldn't they? The butcher sometimes weighs his thumb in the scales while measuring a morsel of meat. The honest working man sometimes holds up the contractor for more and more money, contrary to the union scale, thus causing the contractor to add the extra cost onto his bid to the builder, who then adds in onto his rents and passes it back to nobody in the world but the honest working man himself.

Speaking broadly, and with acknowledgement to the exceptions, the industrial trend has been to give as little in as short a space for as much as often as may be. So the industrial athletes are no better or no worse in their ethics than most of the industrial fans who sit at the pro baseball, football and basketball games and scream when a player skimps his work by failing to charge out there on the field if hearted tackles and blocks, or saves himself for the rigors of playoff action in the fall.

The hockey players—not only the Bruins and Rangers in their Tuesday battle, but most of the others—are exceptions. They live for their work.

Dumb or Ideal?

DOES THIS TRACE, DO YOU THINK, to a greater dumbness or a higher ideal among the hockey athletes, which are mostly imported from up yonder each autumn and returned there each spring by requirement of the immigration authorities?

If it be dumbness it is a superior, exalted brand of stupidity. For, after years of hammering each other's brains out and scrubbing off their skins along the sideboards, players of long experience like Eddie Shore should by now have ample opportunity to review their mistakes and whoa down to a sane and saving pace.

If it be idealism, it is the lofty and unquenchable kind of idealistic amateurism which pay-for-play has not drowned. For the players embroider their games with voluntary bashings, impalings and 30 MPH collisions which are above and beyond the dictates of duty, stripping off their gloves to slug each other with fists, or not stripping off their gloves and clubbing each other's teapots with their sticks. As they did Tuesday! It is an ardor which no pro sports promoter can buy. Because if it were for sale the proprietors of other sports would be paying handsome premiums and charging higher prices.

Well, Eddie has just had his beezer busted for the dozenth time. And once I attempted to catalogue the wounds which he had sustained during 15 years of pro hockey but gave it up after listing as many as five gashes over a single scar. Even Eddie had lost track of his wounds, though admitting he had been stitched enough in his time to equal the sewing in a tailored overcoat.

Hockey Is a Disease

EVEN NOW, IN HIS GLOAMING, Eddie has not learned to whoa down. So the fairest assumption is that the uproar and fury on the ice is brought about not by the game he plays but rather because he, and his kindred types, play it.

And what about the hockey crowds and especially the Boston hockey crowd, which is deemed the most vociferous, boisterous and uproarious crowd in the entire big time circuit. The answer is easy! For the same characters who scream and have epilepsies at the Garden game, are often the ones who tiptoe, muffle their whispers and act elegantly while following the golf matches at Belmont and Brae-Burn. The crowd behaves variously and according to the occasion.

So, I think the only logical conclusion is that hockey is a kind of athletic disease like hyper-thyroid or aggravation in the glands.

'FORGET ROUGH STUFF,' ROSS TELLS BRUINS

By BILL GRIMES

Due to the fact that it's not considered "cricket" by the local fans for any club to gang up on Eddie Shore the New York Rangers will receive a very hostile reception tonight when they tackle the Bruins at Boston Garden in the fifth game of the Stanley Cup elimination series.

Young Frankie Brimsek, Bruins goalie, who is participating in his first Stanley Cup playoff series and playing the same high type of game he did during the regular season.

[illegible] Rangers Tuesday in New York, but after [illegible] be returned to the [illegible] here.

If [illegible] Bruins, one [illegible] and there [illegible]

Gee [illegible] Shore would [illegible] to hand [illegible] Tear [illegible] with [illegible] and Art Wiseman [illegible] But as soon as [illegible] Rangers left for the box [illegible] Shore went into the fray as a peace maker, although he was travelling at top speed when he arrived at the scene of action.

Whether the Bruins will go out to square accounts with Rangers tonight is conjecture. Manager Art Ross has stressed clean hockey during this series, but he may change his tactics tonight, and if he does there are one or two Rangers fated to depart from the Garden via the air line.

FISTS TO FLY

[illegible] a part and [illegible] The game is hard-[illegible] with sticks and skates flying. Tempers flare up players make insulting gestures or remarks and the fists start swinging.

But if the Bruins had fairly close to the Maroons of Queensberry rules [illegible] are regarded as part of the game's work. However when Eddie Shore and Lester Patrick get together there usually some serious trouble in the offing.

Tuesday was a fight in Hollywood before games were as peaceful as Sunday School. Lester Patrick's [illegible] Shore [illegible] Art Ross [illegible]

[illegible] Bruins will [illegible] Art Ross [illegible]

[illegible] Bruins will [illegible] Patrick [illegible] Boston [illegible] Garden [illegible] Toronto Maple Leafs the hot water.

If [illegible] Art Ross will [illegible] for the Bruins to [illegible] from the ice after the fourth game of the series is [illegible] Ross knows that his [illegible] the fourth game of the series is superbly equipped to [illegible] after Hapless Schaefer [illegible] the first minute of play.

KEEPS TEAM ON EDGE

And after that [illegible] they were [illegible] They were [illegible] Art [illegible] they were [illegible] but its now a very well known fact that the Blueshirts unfolded and battled their way to victory.

The Rangers are [illegible] formidable to be taken lightly by any club. Their defense may not be impregnable but they have a remarkable [illegible] and many times one which has tested the Bruins defense, which is rated as one of the strongest in the annals of hockey.

Art Ross will open with the Kilrea line which is now clicking with Eddie Shore and Jack Portland or the pairs protecting Frankie Brimsek. Lester Patrick will counter with the Watson line with Dutch Hiller at [illegible] Ryan Hextall on the flanks, Art Coulter and Muzz Patrick on the other defense and Bert Gardiner in the goals.

GARDINER SCORES

Gardiner [illegible] has been filling in for the injured Davey Kerr since the latter [illegible] has given a very [illegible] despite the [illegible] he has been charged up with [illegible] defeats.

Grove's Showing Gives Sox Hope

By JOE CASHMAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 31—Out of the mists of more than six month's of conjecture over the condition of Robert Moses Grove emerged the vision of an American League pennant floating at the Fenway Park masthead today, as the peerless southpaw successfully passed his first pitching test of the season.

Things are poppin' and scores mounting with the passage of each day's contention in the Boston Evening American-Daily Record candlepin bowling championships at the Huntington Club.

New title threats swamped Secretary Richard Conway, James Irving a high pressure Wednesday competition.

Most of the many amateur duckpinners fell heir to a new crown wearing high percentages, Miss Wall had first place in the championship quest until others came along to dethrone them.

Perhaps the most [illegible] of the day was the [illegible] Hartford [illegible] Connecticut [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] who [illegible] a single game [illegible] 139 [illegible] 139 [illegible] 332 a mark which obliterated from the accepted world book the old established last year in the Record-American tourney by Quincy's [illegible].

Dazzy Vance Tells How to Pitch | Strikeout King Likes Bees

BRADENTON, FLA., March 30—Dazzy Vance, one of the greatest pitchers baseball has ever known, was seated in the grandstand at Clearwater watching a ball game between the Bees and Dodgers. I sat down next to the famous flinger, and asked him how he was recovering from his recent attack of pneumonia.

"I got a letter the other day from a youngster in Brooklyn asking me the same question," said Dazzy, "and I wrote back telling him that Kid Pneumonia had me down to three and two, but couldn't get the next one over. I'll be as good as ever in a few more months."

I recalled to Vance the days of his pitching greatness with the Dodgers and Cardinals.

"I only used a curve and a fast one," declared Dazzy. "When they were expecting a curve I tossed them a fast one, and when they were looking for a fast one I gave them a curve.

"One time I came into Boston when Wally Berger was batting very well. The first time Berger came up I struck him out on three curve balls. The next time he faced me the bases were choked and I fanned him on three fast balls.

"A fast ball isn't effective unless one also has a curve. Big league batters could hit a ball coming out of a cannon once they get set for the speed of the ball. A pitcher makes his fast ball effective by mixing it up with curve balls."

I asked Dazzy if he ever used a slow ball.

"I did on two occasions, and it didn't work," he replied. "I was pitching against Bill Terry of the Giants. He hit the first slow ball I tossed at him over the outfield fence, and when I came back at him with another slow ball he batted it back so hard at me that it almost took off one of my hands. I decided I wasn't a slow ball pitcher, and went back to my curve and fast one."

Batters Often Have Mental Hazards

VANCE BELIEVES that baseball players often create their own mental hazard.

"One day in Brooklyn Jimmy Johnston came running back to the bench and told everybody that when he was at the bat it appeared as if the ball was coming right out of an apartment house that was back of center field. He explained that this was the reason he couldn't hit. Within two days every player on the Brooklyn team was offering the same excuse for poor hitting even though the particular apartment house had been up for a dozen years. It was necessary for the management of the Dodgers to build a special screen in center field to keep the apartment house from out of sight of the batters.

"Ball players often get an idea they cannot hit in a certain city, and they usually don't do so then. It is all a question of getting a mental outlook that is wrong."

I asked Vance if he ever felt there were particular players who could hit him.

"I never did," he replied. "If my curve didn't get the best of them, I then tried a fast ball on them, and it usually worked. One year I struck out 263 players, which is still a pretty good record. In 1924, I won 28 games which was my top year in the matter of victories."

Says Bees Have Improved Club

VANCE DECLARED that the Bees have an improved club.

"Casey Stengel will not have to make any excuses for Lou Fette, Jim Turner and Danny MacFayden," declared Vance. "They are top pitchers, and will win many games.

"I like Eddie Miller, the new shortstop. He looks like a natural ball player.

"Simmons, Hassett and Outlaw will give the Bees some of the batting punch they need."

I asked Dazzy what he thought of the National League race.

"I think the Cardinals have a good chance to win the pennant," declared Dazzy. "I don't believe the Cubs are very strong, and I don't understand how they did so well last season.

"I look for the Pirates to slide out of the first division.

"The Giants may do better. Several of their players have been operated upon, and if the operations prove successful the men of Terry may go places.

"The Reds have a powerful, well-rounded-out club.

"Brooklyn is a bit stronger, while the Phillies still look bad. I wouldn't be surprised to see the Phillies drop right out of the cellar of the league."

Vance told me he is 48 years of age, and that he pitched for Brooklyn when he was 45 years old.

"I now have a hotel at Homosassa Springs, Fla., said Vance. Mrs. Vance has been operating it during my illness. We have a 17-year-old daughter who is attending high school.

"When you're in Florida again, drop in and see me. Maybe I'll be able to teach you how to throw a curve and also a fast one. They enabled me to earn $250,000 in baseball."

BILL'S SPORT-O-GRIMES

If the rotating of officials system is back in mesh, Clarence Campbell will referee tonight's Bruins-Ranger game at the Garden . . . Mickie Ion and Campbell have doubled back since the start of the elimination series . . .

Mickie worked the first and fourth Rossmen-Patrician and Campbell saw service in the second Detroit-Canadiens and the first Detroit-Toronto tilt . . . Neither of them have given one hundred per cent satisfaction . . .

Ion pulled one when he allowed Lynn Patrick's goal Tuesday night in New York and the Flying Frenchmen, in general, and Jules Dugal, in particular, are still screeching that Campbell did a job on them in Detroit . . .

Dugal left himself wide open to a $1000 fine by publicly declaring in Detroit that Campbell's work was the "worst in the history of the league" . . . As the Frenchman is not a member of the inner circle, Dugal will probably be called in on the mat . . .

Our old friend, Jean Fusie, the former Cub, who hails from Chambly Basin, Que., went on the war path again recently and was nicked for $100 . . . On this occasion, Monk Pusie knocked Referee Stan Swain for a loop and has been indefinitely suspended by Pres. Bill Grant of the American Hockey Association . . .

Donie McFayden, who has acted as linesman in two of the Bruins-Rangers games, is practicing law in Chicago between hockey assignments . . . Bert Gardiner, the Rangers' goal minder, is a pro golfer . . . Harvey "Busher" Jackson is still ailing . . . He attempted to work out with the Maple Leafs early this week but his knee kicked up . . . Over a period of years, the Red Wings and Maple Leafs have engaged in an even dozen playoff games and split even . . .

Eddie Shore, despite the going over he received in New York, will be at his right defense post tonight . . . Though the demand for tickets for the fifth game is very healthy, the crowd will not equal last Sunday's gathering . . .

Looks like Tommy Waters has called another one right . . . A year ago, Tommy predicted Toronto to win in straight games over Bruins . . . A month ago, his guess was that the Bruins would play five Stanley Cup games at the Garden . . . Can't get over Frankie Brimsek going haywire to the extent of skating to the timer's box in New York and entering a protest on the goal that beat the Bruins . . . Previously, he had handled himself with much poise during the free-for-all.

'Sonny' Gains on Cot After Losing on Mat

The Guy Who Came Back—only to run into an accident which nearly terminated his career and threatened for a time to endanger his life—Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg was reported resting comfortably at City Hospital today.

Hospital officials were awaiting the development of X-rays today before announcing their final diagnosis of the extent of his injury.

Fear of a possible bloodclot on the brain was precipitated by an apparent paralysis of Sonnenberg's left side as he was being carried from the ring.

BOWSER READY

Promoter Paul Bowser was ready to call upon all available medical aid to avert any untoward development.

At the same time his victorious opponent, Casey, once more crowned king of the mat world, was offering to give Sonny a chance to win back his title for the third time.

Sonnenberg was injured when he was slammed violently to the mat by Casey during the first fall of their match.

Lifted from the ring by his handlers, assisted by Referee Al Morelli, when his stocky powerful, lifeless and grotesque body slumped on the floor of the ring after an unsuccessful attempt to regain his feet, the former Dartmouth grid star, fore-runner of the gridiron mat kings, was carried helplessly to his dressing room.

After a brief preliminary examination by Dr. Francis Henderson of the City Hospital staff, who was attending the wrestling show at the Garden, he was hurriedly carried to a police ambulance and transferred to City Hospital.

At an early this morning he was resting comfortably under the influence of a sedative. Despite the fact the immediate danger had been removed, physicians excluded all visitors from his private room, including his manager, Ralph Stratton. Only one allowed to visit him was his personal handler and attendant, John Singer.

FANS STUNNED

The possibility that Sonny had suffered temporary paralysis as a result of the blow was advanced by Singer.

"When we carried him out," he said, "his whole left side seemed to be paralyzed."

Physicians at the hospital announced early this morning that the injured matman would have to remain under observation for at least four or five days, until he recovered from the terrific shock he suffered.

The sudden finish to the bout in which Sonny's world heavyweight championship, which he had won back from "The Shadow," Martin Westenberg, only two weeks ago, stunned the 5000 spectators at the Garden.

The end came in 33 minutes and 30 seconds, while Gus and Casey were still struggling for the first fall. Until that time Sonny had more than held his own with the Irish giant, like himself a former world's title holder, although he had been unable to bring his famed flying tackle into play.

Suddenly Casey trapped him in a corner, pulled his legs out from under him and dropped him to the mat. Then, instead of falling on the prostrate champion, the "Crusher" gripped him in his mighty hands, lifted him high over his head and dropped him to the mat again with a mighty crash.

Vainly, Sonny attempted to gain his feet, then slid helplessly on the mat, where Casey pinned him.

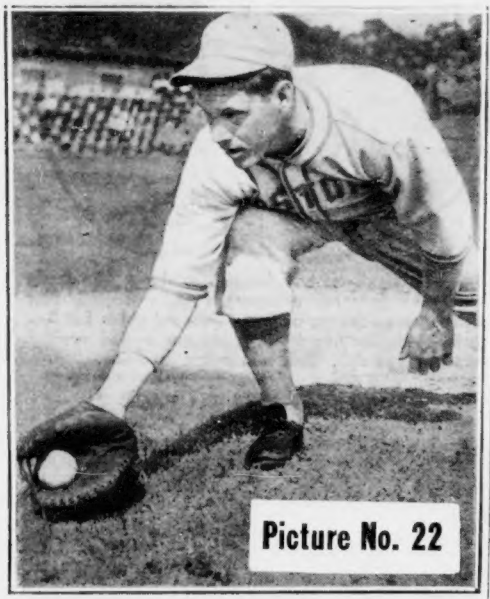
This is No. 22 of the series in the contest which started in the Sunday Advertiser of March 19 and which will continue in the Daily Record and Evening American up to and including April 3. Back copies are available at the Boston American-Daily Record Office, 5 Winthrop Sq., Boston.



1. This is Buddy Hassett of the Bees. RIGHT WRONG
2. Was sold to the Bees by the Dodgers. RIGHT WRONG
3. Was once the property of the Yankees. RIGHT WRONG

RULES: Contestants must cross out "right" or "wrong" word according to their opinion of the statement made or questions asked. For instance, if you find the statement or question to be wrong then you cross out the word "right," and if you believe it to be right then you cross out the word "wrong."

Employes of the Hearst newspapers in Boston, and relatives are ineligible for prizes.

IMPORTANT. Do not send in your selections until the series is completed.

Also include a letter of not more than 100 words or not less than 50 words on "Why Baseball Is the National Pastime." These letters will only be considered in the event of a tie.

The decisions of the judges will be final.

It is not necessary to buy a copy of the paper in order to compete. Copies of the Boston Evening American, Daily Record and Sunday Advertiser, on file at the library, may be traced instead.

Deadline for entries in the contest will be midnight, April 8.

LIFE BEGINS FOR 'RIPPER' AT 34

"RIPPER" COLLINS

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP)—Life began anew today on the 34th birthday of James Anthony (Ripper) Collins.

Collins, one-time member of the rip-roaring Gas House gang of the St. Louis Cardinals, was abruptly sold down the river to the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League by the Chicago Cubs.

Today he was to talk salary with President David P. Fleming of the Angels, and it was a different, disheartened Ripper that awaited the conference.

The deal, announced last night, was as much a shock to Collins as it was a delight and a surprise to Los Angeles, badly in need of a first baseman.

"I guess I'm just too numb to understand it," Collins said. The Ripper was never verbally numb like this before.

"Of course," he went on, "I'm going to play baseball somewhere I like it too much.

"It's a funny business, though, isn't it?" he asked, trying to grin.
